

Saturday 28th July
show starts at 1pm
(picnics from noon)

Bloomfield Road
allotments, Bear Flat

All is not well at St Monica's Hospital. They're on life support; facing bugs, bed-blockers and a battle to save A and E. Seventy years ago, Nye Bevan gave us free healthcare for all. Can his dream survive the demands and pressures of the 21st century? With tunes, transfusions and titters, join Mikron as we make a surgical strike on the state of our NHS.

No tickets needed – just bring a chair or rug (and a picnic if you like). Cast will do a collection after the show. No parking or loo! Tea stall with home-made cakes.

Organised by B&NES Allotments Association with support from Bear Flat Association
